

Job Title: Ministry Assistant / Future Ministry Leader (The "Timothy" Project)

Organization: Learning Institute of Texas

Employment Type: Part-Time (with clear path to Full-Time/Executive Leadership) / Internship available

Location: Houston, TX (with frequent international travel)

About the Role

The Learning Institute of Texas is seeking a passionate, teachable, and mission-minded individual to step into a unique relational and ministerial role. We aren't just looking for an employee; we are looking for a "Timothy"—someone ready to learn, work, and grow alongside our leadership.

You will directly support and eventually help manage our network of Bible training schools and church plants across Central America. This position offers a rare opportunity to start part-time (or as an internship) and naturally transition into managing the entire ministry.

Key Responsibilities

- Ministry Partnership: Work closely with the ministry founder to learn the DNA, vision, and operations of the organization.
- Field Support: Assist in overseeing, supporting, and developing our Bible training schools and church plants in Central America.
- International Travel: Travel frequently overseas to engage with local pastors, students, and church communities.
- Operational Growth: Gradually take on administrative, leadership, and management responsibilities as you grow into the role.

What We Are Looking For

- A True Calling: A deep, undeniable heart for global missions and church planting.
- A Teachable Spirit: A strong desire to be discipled, mentored, and pushed to your full leadership potential.

- Flexible Background: We are open to current Bible college/seminary students, recent graduates, or those looking for a robust ministry internship.
- Travel Ready: Ability and willingness to travel frequently to Central American countries.
- Language Asset: Fluency in Spanish is highly preferred and will be a major asset in this role.

What We Offer

- Direct mentorship from seasoned ministry leadership.
- A clear, defined pathway from a part-time role/internship to executive ministry management.
- Hands-on, front-line missions and pastoral training experience.

How to Apply

If you feel a calling to this vision and want to explore being a part of what God is doing in Central America, please send your resume and a brief summary of your faith/missions journey to Robert Park at robertpark@litexas.edu.
